"LET US HAVE POLITICAL PARTIES."

We publish in another column, an able and sensible article under this head, from the Sacramento Transcript. Its sentiments will be concurred in by every man in California who has any distinctive political principles, and who is willing to stand or fall by them, without endeavoring to creep into power and place by trimming sails for every wind that blows. Men who honestly entertain opinions, and have confidence in their integrity and purity, seldom have any fears in regard to their advocacy, boldly and frankly. They are the kind of men to whom may be safely entrusted the guidance of the State, and in their hands there is little to fear.

We like a bold, firm partizan, better than a sly, dodging politician, who expresses himself in nods and winks, and never has an "opinion for the public eye." The errors of the former are readily discovered, and effectually remedied. The same remark is true of parties. Political organizations that put forth their principles frankly, command always the respect even of those opposed to their sentiments.

The time has come for men to avow themselves, and take position politically. The cry of "no party" can never again be raised in California with success. The day is past for such catch-words. Every man entertains political sentiments, of some nature or complexion, and they will be found sympathizing with the party that advocates their views. Give us political contests at every election; decide the choice of candidates by their views of public policy, openly expressed by themselves or their party, and we shall have no fears but the career of the State will be onward and prosperous.

We are exceedingly relieved by seeing in the Alta of yesterday an explanation of its mysterious paragraph of the day previous relative to "that bill." It wouldn't do to have many more such learned pundits as the Alta man in this community;—and as "double magnifying leather spectacles," are necessary to observe the point of his wit, (which we own up to most fully) we shall always use ours when looking for any thing smart or profound in that solemn and luminous journal. We acknowledge the "sell," and breathe freer and easier now that we know what Alta did really mean. Any thing to create a diversion in favor of Benicia, a hamlet which has for some week or two past haunted our neighbor "on the square," like an ogre.

DAMAGE IN THE HARBOR.—We learn that the bark Harvest broke away from her anchorage off Rincon Point yesterday afternoon during the gale, and drifted against a ship, which she sunk, and injured several other vessels. The damage is estimated at $20,000. We may expect immense injuries from a similar source this winter, if great care be not used in regard to our shipping. The Harbor Master has made a good beginning in opening an ample thoroughfare for the steamers.

COLLAPSE.—The Courier of yesterday denies that any persons write "editorials" for that paper except the hombres whose names are printed at its head. As the Senior is unfortunately laid up, the public may therefore expect to see a copious discharge of Rice water, from the Junior, and consequently a collapse in that heretofore spicy sheet may be feared. Better send for Dr. Melhado!

THE "H. T. CLAY."—This fine little steamer started on her first trip to Sacramento yesterday morning, conveying a large number of passengers, and a good amount of freight. A considerable party went on board for the purpose of making the trip up and back for pleasure, thereby getting a view of the river by daylight.

MORE GOLD.—The Gold Hunter yesterday brought nearly $300,000 from below. The mines are not the only places that are rich in ore.

THE STATE ARCHIVES.

It will be recollected that not long since the City Council appropriated a sum of money to send a commission to Sonoma to search the archives of the state respecting the title to certain lands supposed to have belonged to the Pueblo of San Francisco. The records appear to have been left by Gen. Smith—to whom they were delivered up by Gen. Riley, as U.S. Agent—in charge of Maj. Canby, at Benicia.

Our respected townsman, Alfred Wheeler, Esq., whose able Report on the condition of the Beach and Water lots in this city, is already before the public, was appointed Commissioner to make these researches. We had the pleasure of meeting with Mr. W. at Benicia a few days since, and understood from him that he had already been able to collect a large amount of valuable information from this source, touching not only this city, but various other public interests of our young State.

We are glad to see that this labor has fallen into so competent hands, and have no doubt that important results will be reached by researches into these State papers.

The Placer Times is endeavoring to create the impression that the cholera has, and still does, rage here to an alarming extent, and that the city papers either suppress, or cannot accurately get, the full bill of mortality. We have never yet pretended that we gave a full list of deaths, but it has always been as accurate as it could possibly be made. At the same time we have no hesitation in expressing the conviction that the number of deaths beyond our daily lists, will not average over two per day.

The physician who informs the Times, "from his personal observation," that there were "as many deaths in San Francisco on several days last week as occurred in Sacramento at the period of the highest mortality," either was in a condition to magnify three or four times, or else has grossly misrepresented the facts. We have no disposition to misrepresent the number of deaths, or suppress the truth, and equally object to our friends up country misstating the bill of mortality, and thereby creating an alarm which shall result advantageously to the trade of their own city. We have taken every proper occasion to announce the daily decrease and final disappearance of the scourge from our sister city, and have done so with pleasure, and we regret to see so manifest a disposition to retaliate by gross misrepresentation in regard to the deaths in our own midst. In both cities the mortality has been large and painful, casting a dark shade over business and pleasure, and we are but too much rejoiced to see the noon day destroyer stoop in its onward progress.

SIDEWALKS.—Some of our citizens make use of the entire sidewalk in front of their stores, under a mistaken impression that it belongs to them. [Stockton Journal.]

And "some of our citizens" not only use the "entire sidewalk," but one-half, and sometimes two-thirds of the entire street. In some localities, so much liberty is taken in this respect, that it has become an unendurable nuisance, and the Street Commissioner, whose duty it is to look to the matter, walks by such places as deliberately, without interference, as he would take a drive to the Mission. In many of our most busy streets, it is impossible to pass along on the sidewalks, and to take the street, requires no little courage and a vast deal of dodging.

LYNCH LAW.—They have a way of administering rather summary justice up at Stockton, now and then. A few days since, a fellow was caught appropriating to himself the contents of a gentleman's pocket, and there being no magistrate handy, a good sound thrashing was administered "at sight." Where justice is so expensive as in California, and so mighty uncertain, we don't know but the Judge Lynch system is about as good a way as any of disposing of petty scoundrels. Law and order should reign supreme, but there is a "glorious uncertainty about legal proceedings," that enables many a villain to escape "scot free."

We regret to learn that our editorial friend Crane, of the Courier, while on a ride to the Mission on Saturday last, in "passing under the lee of some bushes of the scrub oak, is again severely poisoned—so severely, that he is unable to use his pen, or to exchange civilities with his friends." He has long been poisoned with whiggery, in the worst form, and with little show of recovery, but we hope to see his last affliction speedily pass away.

LATE FROM BOSTON!—An evening paper has the following:

"Miss Cushman had a crowded house and a cordial reception, at the Howard Athenaeum, Boston, on Monday evening."

This is decidedly the latest intelligence from the States! This evening we shall probably receive intelligence of Miss Cushman's "cordial reception" on Tuesday evening.

CATHERWOOD, THE ARTIST.—We were favored with a short interview with this gentleman, the other day, at Benicia, where he is at present located as the agent of Messrs. Howland & Aspinwall. The "Panorama of Jerusalem," and "Views in Syria," as well as his "Illustrations" of the Ruins in Central America, have interested a large class of our people in this artist, and entitle him to our lasting regards.

Mr. C. informed us that besides his drafts of surveys for the railroad on the Isthmus, and the necessary drawings of works in which he is engaged for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company, he finds but little time for making sketches.

Unlike what is so often the case, we found Mr. Catherwood entirely free from the disagreeable oddities and eccentricities which characterize so many possessing genius for the fine arts. He seemed in excellent health and spirits, and as contented, to all appearance, with life in California, as is the case with any of us who have left home and family behind.

"Which?"—A New York paper makes some curious comments upon the vocal powers of the Swedish Nightingale, "which" may be set down as decidedly rich and whickly. It says:

"When such a woman possesses a voice which is as remarkable among voices as she is among women, which is the more pouring forth of its glorious flood of tone, produces an effect which is little below the sublime, and when she uses that voice with a skill which to the uninitiated appears to be rather a marvellous instinct than the fruit of labor, it seems a task to say aught of her which is not a mere expression of the delight she affords."

In the same article the following sentence occurs. It is a remarkable compound of whiceries:

"This power of expression is a gift of nature, which cannot be imparted by instruction, although the style, which is the result of it, can be well directed and improved, and the pure delivery of the voice, which aids it, is taught in the best Italian schools."

A SINGULAR MEETING.—A day or two since a singular meeting took place between a brother and two sisters. The three were originally from Mexico, but the brother went to the States when quite a boy, where he has since remained. In the meantime, his family had removed hither, and when the brother and sisters met, the former could not utter a word of Spanish, nor the sisters more than half a dozen words of English! However, there was a language more eloquent than words, that expressed the warm feelings of the heart.

FOR OREGON.—On Friday next, the beautiful and fast sailing ship "Casilda," will leave for the various ports in Oregon. On the 15th of December next, the law of Congress giving six hundred acres of land to settlers, will expire, and persons desirous of availing themselves of its provisions, will arrive just in time by leaving here on Friday. The agents of the Casilda are Brown & Co., head of Central Wharf.

DEMOCRATIC MEETING.—A Democratic meeting was held at Sacramento on Saturday evening, for the purpose of perfecting a political organization. The meeting was largely attended. The following gentlemen were appointed delegates to the County Convention: J. D. Hardin, Berg, Reuben Raynes, Wm. S. Long, W. C. Kibbe, and C. A. Johnson.

We visited, this morning, the beautiful steamer H. T. Clay, which has just been completed, and starts on her first trip tomorrow morning, from Central wharf. [Pied yune, last evening.]

Quite an error. The "H. T. Clay" left yesterday morning, and is by this time on her way back. She went off promptly at the drop of the lat.

THE EUDORA.—We learn by the Gold Hunter, which arrived yesterday, that the propeller Eudora, which left New York in January last, was lying at San Diego, and had been condemned, her boiler being worn out. Her cargo will probably be brought up by other vessel.

ESCAPED.—We understand that three prisoners escaped from the prison under the City Hall, during the temporary absence of the keeper on Monday night. Their names are Mitchell, Fisher, and Smith.

WHEN?—When is the election for Alderman in the place of Mr. Gillespie to be ordered? It should take place on the same day as the election for Justice and Constable.

THE GOLD HUNTER.—This steamer came in from Acapulco yesterday, bringing one hundred and two passengers.

No jury was "called and sworn" to try the "squatters," at Benicia, as is stated in several of our cotemporaries.

THE OREGON.—Will sail for Panama on the 12th of December, ad. [Transcript.] This was "previous after the war," neighbor.

DEATHS BY CHOLERA.—There were nine deaths by cholera for the twenty-four hours ending yesterday noon.

LIBEL SUIT.—The Courier of yesterday morning publishes a declaration served upon the editors by Messrs. Lockwood, Hackett & Judah, attorneys for Melhado & Gunter, in which they demand fifty thousand dollars damages for sundry words spoken and assertions made in regard to the plaintiffs, touching their acts in driving piles on a water lot in the Bay. This we believe is the pioneer libel suit of California, and its result will be looked to with no little interest. Where peculation is going on in every quarter, and open, unblushing robbery is being practised by men in and out of office, the press should be protected in its exposures as far as is consistent with the rights of individuals. Whether the case alluded to above, is one which demanded and warranted an exposition on the part of the press, we will not undertake to say; but if the testimony upon the issue to be tried, shows a design to rob the city or the State of reserved rights, we shall be amongst the first to raise our hands against it, and be as loud as any in its denunciation.

GENEROUS TARTAR.—We learn that a gentleman recently returned to this city from Oregon, was gallant and generous enough, as they were about getting out on the voyage, to purchase a nice basket of eggs, which the said gentleman was moved to make a present to a fair lady who happened to be en route for this port. The said basket was duly put in charge of the steward, and on their arrival, it chanced to meet again, as it was snugly stowed away in the steward's pantry, the gaze of this same gentleman, who unconsciously took charge of the same himself and walked off, leaving the fair object of his generosity minus the eggs, which to a lady in "the land of gold," would be almost as valuable as "golden" eggs. The joke of it is that the same lady's friends had in the first place, themselves bargained for the eggs, but the generous man insisted on paying for them as a present. His name ought to be made public.

JUSTICE OF THE PEACE.—Several candidates are in the field for the vacancy occasioned by the death of Mr. Hoffman, and among them we recognize warm political and personal friends. Where such is the case, it is embarrassing to express a preference, and while we would not do so in the present instance, we will take occasion to say that we believe no more competent person could be selected than Charles D. Judah, Esq. He has been a resident amongst us for nearly two years, and is favorably known to a large portion of our citizens. He was one of the early patrons, and an occasional contributor to the columns of the "News," when in its infancy, and we feel no hesitation in endorsing his qualifications for the office. If elected, there will be little cause to complain of the manner in which the trust will be discharged.

THE FAIR.—We are happy to announce that the ladies connected with the First Presbyterian Church in this city, are very busily engaged in making ready for a Fair in aid of the fund for erecting their fine edifice for worship in Stockton street. We understand that the opening will be on Thanksgiving eve, next Friday week. The ladies of this Society will be able to make a strong appeal to the hearts of bachelors and widowers, in the array of beauty they can make, and we trust, too, a conquest of their purses, by the varied useful and fancy articles they will have for sale. Let us give them abundant aid in their labor of love. Who will hereafter venture to say that we are not in a civilized land?

SQUATTER MEETING.—The squatters of Sacramento held a meeting on the Public Square on Saturday evening, at which they resolved that they would not recognize either the Democratic or Whig nominations at the special election, but "go in" for their friends, without reverence to party; that they cannot give their support to any man for any office, who is afraid or backward in avowing here, here, and everywhere, that he is a squatter in principle; that he recognize in every American citizen the inalienable right to a portion of the public domain, free as God who gave it, and will support only those who are in favor of land limitations and homestead exemption.

THE YUBA EXPRESS.—Mr. A Stewart will leave for the North Fork of the Yuba river, immediately upon the arrival of the steamer due this morning, and will take charge of letters and small packages. This affords a good opportunity for persons here to write to their friends in the mines. Letters may be left at the counting-room of this paper.

DESERVED FINE.—We were pleased to see the prompt infliction by Judge Hopkins of a fine of $20, each, upon three hombres at Benicia who had been summoned to serve as jurors, but did not find it convenient to be present.

From the Sacramento Transcript.

LET US HAVE POLITICAL PARTIES.

In the United States we are all Republicans—we all want the largest liberty, compatible with the rights of others. But there is something singular about men, that makes them delight in antagonism. Now that the days of chivalry are over,—now that men no longer glory in personal powers, they have substituted, instead, a sort of friendly warfare. Contentions now result from party spirit, which has its foundation in passion. It is true, we all have principles; great, exhaustless, eternal principles; but party spirit is the steam that develops them, and puts them into execution. Parties do not differ materially in their principles, but they wish to get in advance of each other, in order to gain the honor of being first to carry out some wholesome measure, calculated to strengthen principle and enlarge the influence of the party organizing it.

Party spirit is of immense service in keeping principle alive; though of itself, it possessed no real merit.—Without party spirit, there would be no parties; and without parties, our principles would be forgotten. Hence, what appears objectionable in itself, is the very life blood of principle and progress. We must have the argus eyes of party upon us, or we cannot long have republicanism. When party spirit runs high, the eyes of the people are opened; the worst enemies are then exposed. A partisan is excused for speaking boldly; when, if a neutral, sincere individual opens his mouth to complain, calumnies are heaped upon him. Tyrants know this fact, and parties are hardly known in despotic governments. In England and the United States, where modern liberty had its birth, parties have always held sway. In Russia, Turkey, and the despotisms of Asia, parties are not allowed to flourish; the abuses of power are not exposed, and the people groan under oppression and misrule, ignorant of their rights. In the dark ages, there were no parties in the church, and then was true religion supplanted by corruption, profligacy and rottenness. When parties began to develop themselves, martyrdom and the most horrid persecutions were resorted to, to keep them down. But as new orders arose and triumphed over the powers that opposed them, the church became purified. It is not that the duties of the Christian differ according as he is connected with one sect or another; but unless rival sects expose the sins of each other, improper men will creep in, and poison the purest organization.

Having shown that parties are a necessary adjunct to Republicanism, nothing more need be said to justify their organization in California.—There is a carelessness in the conduct of a public officer who has been elected in a "scrub race," that would not be allowed in any man responsible to a party. We have felt the injurious effects of this too long. Organize parties, and then men will be held responsible for their official conduct. If a man prove untrue to his trust, he will be untrue to his party; if he ruins himself, he injures his party. Therefore, no party will trust its safety to an unsafe man. Then let us have parties, that we may know the sentiments of the country. Thus far, we have had disgraceful domestic quarrels, that have never been brought in issue at the ballot box. When parties organize, they must avow their sentiments on all questions of State as well as national policy. Then when we vote for the nominee of a party, we will know how he will vote when a great question is at stake. The question of the disposal of the public lands in California, is one on which parties should declare their sentiments. That, and the proper regulation of the mines, are the two great domestic questions of the country. Disputed land claims must be determined by the judiciary, or by Commissioners appointed by the general government. But there are hundreds of thousands of square miles of public land in California yet unclaimed. Shall this be bought up by speculators, or cannot the United States well afford to give it in small lots to actual settlers? This is a question that California should take action upon. But the sentiment of the country cannot be ascertained till parties are organized, declare their principles, and the vote of the country is taken.

THEATRICAL.—Notwithstanding the storm, the Dramatic Museum, last evening, was filled. The performance was highly entertaining and satisfactory. The managers are reaping a good return for their endeavors to afford the public an agreeable place of amusement. The Adelphi had a good house last evening. The Greek Slave's management succeeds admirably. The performance last night was entertaining. The Mauduit Brothers astonish all by their feats. They perform for the last time, to-night.

FOR UMPQUA.—The fine brig CALBERT CURTIS, leaves for Umpqua city this day.

We can't understand how the water, during the rainy season, is to find its way into the sewers, except a few gimlet holes are bored at the corners of the streets. The swelling of the planks will make a pretty tight surface to hold water, which we suppose 'o have been the original design. Who is the city engineer?

MARE ISLAND.—We learn that this property has recently been purchased of Messrs. Frisbee & Co., by the agent of Howland & Aspinwall, for the purposes of a Depot for the Pacific Mail Steamship Company.

The Green Eyed Monster.—A very ludicrous instance of jealousy, without sufficient cause, took place in Monmouth, recently. The wife of John Ryan, lodging house keeper, was subpoenaed to give evidence in a murder case. The paper was directed to Mary Ryan, with the usual imaginary John Doe; and the husband frequently hearing this person's name mentioned as the intended companion of his wife to Monmouth, made particular inquiries as to his character, which the policeman ingeniously answered, exciting John's apprehensions of horns to such a pitch, that he swore that he would not let Mary go to the assizes with that vagabond Doe, even if the judge went on his knees to him; and he absolutely followed his better half to Monmouth to prevent her going with Doe.

TO THE PUBLIC.—Whereas, J. W. Geary has not noticed an article over my signature in the Pacific News of the 15th inst., relating to an outrageous abuse perpetrated against me in the exercise of his official power, I shall now proceed to publish the facts in the case in accordance with my promise.

Little more than a year since, I observed a man removing lumber from the beach where it had been landed from a barque in the harbor. I addressed the man and informed him of his probable mistake, but he answered, he did not care who it belonged to, he should take what he wanted. I then immediately went to John W. Geary, the then Alcalde, and entered a complaint and desired that the individual might be brought to justice. Upon my complaint a warrant was issued, and I appeared as witness for the prosecution on the day and hour appointed; but the case was deferred by the Court. I again appeared, it was again deferred two or three times until my patience became exhausted, and the result of the matter was, the culprit was never brought to justice.

To my surprise, about four months since, I had a bill presented to me for costs in this suit of $10. I refused to pay this, as the man was not punished, and I well knew that the City had already largely paid Mr. Geary for his valuable services in criminal cases. I was sued for the costs of the above suit; an execution was served on my property for $33, and I was forced to pay it.

I, with every other good citizen of San Francisco at that time, had pledged myself to use my influence to put a stop to the progress of a band of lawless individuals called Hounds, who were then infesting the city, and to this cause may be attributed my exertions in having this person arrested.

Now, I ask, was not this a case of criminal prosecution? Was not I the witness for the prosecution? How, then, could I be liable for the costs in the suit? What right had he to issue an execution on my property for costs on costs, and force me to the payment?

I find in the records of the Ayuntamiento, the following appropriations:

Jan. 21, 1850.	To Judge of first instance,	$498 00
" "	" "	2456 00
" "	To Judge of Criminal Court,	850 00
" "	" "	5880 60
Feb. 11, "	Alcalde's office for sundries,	627 00
Mar. 4, "	Criminal Court for divers prosecutions,	1653 00
nov 20 1850	F. H. SOUTHWORTH.

GRAND LODGE of the State of California. In consequence of the prevalence of an epidemic at Sacramento City, and upon the application of several Lodges under the jurisdiction of the Grand Lodge (in consequence thereof) for a postponement of the semi-annual meeting from the first to the fourth Tuesday in November, I have deemed it prudent and proper to direct the said semi-annual meeting to be adjourned accordingly. SUPERIOR PACKET FOR REALAJEO, PANAMA, and VALPARAISO.—The fast sailing A 1 coppered and copper fastened ship DUMBARTON, 1000 tons burthen, Gibbs, master, will leave for the above ports on WEDNESDAY, Nov. 20th.

Having dispatched within the last three weeks, with signal success, the incomparable packets OCEOLA, CLARISA, ANDREW, and ELLEN BROOKS, and having rendered complete satisfaction to passengers in all cases, we now offer our favorite packet, the magnificent ship Dumbarton, costing about Thirty Thousand Dollars, confidently relying that such a fine and roomy vessel will not fail to command the liberal patronage which she deserves. We are well aware of the gross frauds practised by irresponsible persons, who have bought and fitted up a trifling cost old whaling craft in the harbor, which never intended to sail, and have deceived many by large bills of fare and low rates of passage, have pocketed the proceeds, and left them to find a passage home as best they could, without a dollar.

Passengers may rest assured that the Dumbarton will leave in 48 hours after her advertised time. Her accommodations in her Saloons and Second Cabin, are more splendid and better arranged for comfort than any vessel ever sent from this port, and will compare favorably with the finest New York and Liverpool packets. In addition to her present extra lot of live stock and vegetables, she will lay in a fresh supply again at Realajo. Besides, stewards and cooks of the first class, and a large number of waiters, a regular baker has been engaged, and the tables will be furnished with fresh bread every day. Every precaution has been taken to insure the health of all on board. A well replenished medicine chest, milk, wines, sago, arrow-root, calomel, prepared barley, and other suitable hospital stores, together with a large quantity of chloride of lime and other cholera preventives have been provided, and an experienced physician, a regular graduate of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, of London, has been employed, who will attend to the sick, free of charge. The Captain is confident that he will make the trip as quick, if not quicker, than any sailing craft on the Pacific. One of the owners goes with her to see to the convenience of her passengers, and will be responsible for every statement in this bill.

The fact that we were the first to fit up sailing vessels in good style, furnished with mattresses and bedding, and the first to supply our ships with fresh provisions and vegetables, as well as the first to reduce the price of passage to the present moderate rates, is a sufficient guaranty for the Dumbarton.

She may be seen at Buckle's Pier, where persons are invited to call and examine her for themselves. Gold dust and treasure shipped and insured.

ROMANCE OF REAL LIFE—THE FEMALE BLOODHOUND.

Much curiosity has been awakened during the last few weeks, by the appearance of a strange and foreign-looking carriage upon the drive, whose fair inmate, something strange and rather foreign-looking otherwise, has become the universal subject of conversation amongst the loitering groups lounging on the very edge of the curb-stone, which skirts the macadamized road. Who is the lady? What is she? Where does she come from? are questions to which none but the initiated can venture a reply. She is attired in the deepest mourning, and her countenance is marked by an expression of that fierce grief which strikes such a feeling of anxiety and dismay into the mind of the beholder. Although still lovely—for time has dealt so gently with her, that sorrow has much to do in order to destroy that beauty which once was the theme of admiration and envy throughout the whole of Europe; yet few could now trace in the pale and stricken figure which passes slowly before us, with head bent low, and eyes gazing on vacancy, the brilliant, all-conquering dutchess who, but a few years ago, shone forth the guiding star of every continental court, whose scepter ruled alike the empire of beauty, of fashion, and of politics, and who came with honor out of the struggle with the great Lieven herself.

After four years absence from Paris she has returned broken hearted, but upon far other motives than those which guided her on her departure; love of power, love of homage, love of admiration. She has returned thither, led on by a love of revenge alone, in search of revenge upon the murderers of Lichnowski, whom she is determined to pursue with that undying hate of which the middle ages have left us such terrible examples. The culprits were, it is said, eight in number. Already have three of them been taken in Germany through the exertions of this lady, who scorned the feminine weakness of solitude and tears, has set forth upon this dreary pilgrimage.

Fabulous stories are told, of course, concerning her munificent offers of recompense to the agents of police of the different cities, wherein she deems that any of the murderers have found refuge. Two of them have already been taken here within the last week. They were living under assumed names in obscurity as common workmen, earning a daily pittance; but her long-armed, long-sighted vengeance has reached them here; and through her exertions alone they have been conveyed beyond the frontier, and delivered up to the Austrian authorities; but so long as that dark blue carriage is seen slowly creeping up the Champs Elysees we may be sure some other of the blood-stained criminals must be concealed in Paris. For more than three months was it beheld creeping along as we now behold it, up and down the public promenade of the little town of Toul, where it had been discovered that the woman who cheered the men on amongst the crowd to commit the murder had sought refuge in disguise; and it was not until the very day that the unhappy creature was taken, bound and handcuffed between two gendarmes, through the eastern gate of the town, that the grand equipage, with its gloomy burden, was seen to hurry as fast as four horses could convey it on the road to Paris, still in pursuit of that revenge which is not yet completed.

They say that our great painter is engaged in painting a portrait of the unfortunate object of this sombre and fierce attachment, and that the favored few have been admitted to behold it in its unfinished state. It represents "der hubsch Lichnowski," (as he was called from his great personal beauty) in the costume and attitude which he bore upon the very morning of his death. His magnificent countenance and splendid figure, attired in the black velvet coat, the cap and tassel, the buckskin breeches, and the shining Hessian boots, are all represented here to the life, as well as the window and the balcony from whence he breathed his last tender farewell, when he descended to the garden in order to chastise the insolent canaille, armed with riding-whip alone. All grow beneath the painter's hand as he follows the instructions of the desolate lady who thus cheats her sorrow for a moment, while hugging to her soul the memory of her last and dearest love. [Paris Correspondence of London paper.]

More of the Mysterious Villainy.—The person who has sought some five times the destruction of Mrs. James Menzies, Franklin street, still pursues his or her murderous intention with unflinching determination. Another most mysterious attempt was made about 8 o'clock on Monday night. The servant girl had just stepped out of the passage door to the street, when Mr. Gregg, a merchant, called to see Mr. Menzies, who was out. Mrs. M. came down into the passage with a light, and observing a small package lying on the table, asked Mr. Gregg if he had brought it. He said he had not, when suspicion was excited, and a brother of Mr. Menzies opened it very carefully. It was found, however, to be a vial wrapped in a paper, which proved to be an envelope containing a note to the following effect:

"Dear Lou: Take a spoonful of this for your throat, from Dr. O'D. JAMES."

When Mr. Menzies came home he knew nothing of it, and on analyzing the contents of the vial, it was found to contain corrosive sublimate, a teaspoonful of which would have produced certain death. How it came in the house was a mystery, unless placed on the table during the momentary absence of the servant girl, the front door being open.

But the greatest mystery is the fact that although Mrs. M. had a sore throat, they did not believe any one out of the family knew it. And the climax of mysteries is in connection with the envelope.

Mr. Menzies, when absent from the city, had frequently sent messages to his wife by telegraph, which she received in the usual printed envelopes of the Telegraph company. The envelope which contained the note wrapped round the vial, was one of those which had been sent her by her husband some time previous; was endorsed in the handwriting of an operator of the telegraph office, "Mrs. Menzies," and had been purloined by some means, from the house. The note was written in pencil, a rather poor imitation of Mr. M.'s handwriting, but addressed in his usual familiar style, "Dear Lou." The "Dr. O'D." intended, was Dr. O'Donovan, the family physician.

Many mysterious affairs have come under our observation, but this, we must confess, exceeds all. The villain is, beyond question, a person very familiar with the dwelling, and well acquainted with the movements of the family. [Baltimore Clipper.]

HUMBREGGING A MULE.—The Doylestown Democrat says that in one of our iron mines in Lehigh county, where the water is drawn out of the mine by mule power, one of the mules refuses to work unless he is ridden. To save a hand they have mounted an artificial monkey upon him, and he works steadily, perfectly satisfied.

Dean Swift said the reason of so many unhappy marriages was 'because young ladies spent more time in making cages than nests.'

Having completed my survey in the southern part of the city of San Jose, in all 900 lots, 25 by 47-1-2 varas, and being desirous to have improvements go on rapidly, I propose to give 300 lots to settlers who will build a neat, suitable house on each lot, and fence the same.

I have also over 100 lots, 50 varas square, in the Old Survey of the city, which I will sell low, and give time on part. The lots I own in the Old and New surveys of the city are decidedly the best locations for buildings, being high and dry, and never subject to overflow; with the very best mountain water, obtained at the depth of 12 to 14 feet.

I think lumber shippers would do well to call and take a look at my lots. I will give them lots to build houses on, or will exchange lots for lumber of all kinds, or houses.

THE VALLEY.—We have a greater number of acres equal to the best Illinois land, than can be seen in any other north or east of us, in California; and the grain-growing portions of the world, so far as I am acquainted, cannot equal us in producing wheat, both in quality and quantity: 60 bushels have been raised to the acre, and there can be seen now in the fields and gardens of our farmers, as fine crops as a majority of the States can produce at and vegetables of all kinds in abundance growing, and that too, without rain or watering.

CLIMATE AND HEALTH.—Listen, now:—The average summer heat is 75 to 80 degs., with cool nights; no mosquitoes, day or night; no fever and ague, and no disease peculiar to the valley or town, winter or summer.

We have some of the first settlers living with us yet, over 100 years of age, and one in particular, over 110, sound in body and mind. We have had but one death out of the immigration of 1846, an old gentleman, who was broken down with disease before he came to our city.

THE MORALS OF OUR CITY and vicinity will, I make no doubt, compare with those of the best of our neighboring cities and towns. We are a law abiding and a law supporting people, and have our churches and schools as well as others.

Persons wishing lots will apply soon to the subscriber in the south end of the city. JAMES FREED.

KLAMATH GOLD MINES, RIver and Town.—One of the most extensive fields for speculation at present in California.

The attention of the public is now called to this very important part of California. The town of Klamath is situated on the bank and at the vicinity of the mouth of a river, upon the numerous tributaries of which the most productive and extensive gold mines have been discovered of any now in existence in California. The Harbor (at the upper end of which this beautiful town site is situated) is both commodious and secure, and possesses the very superior advantage over all the other ports upon the coast between the Columbia river and San Francisco of a perfectly safe entrance. The river is a magnificent stream and navigable by steamers, according to the opinion of steamboat captains and others in every way competent to judge of the matter, at least 70 miles up; at, and even below which point, these very rich gold mines commence. Merchants and capitalists who are desirous of realizing a handsome profit upon their goods and an enormous return for their capital cannot enter into a better speculation or make a more safe investment of their means in any part of California, from the fact that there are at present about 2000 miners at work upon this river and its tributaries; and there is every reason to believe, from the numerous satisfactory statements of the miners, relative to their success during the last year, that next year there will be many times the number. The immediate rush to these mines from all parts will be immense, and in fact almost unprecedented; and this town, which may be said to be adjacent, in consequence of the water communication into the very heart of them, must and will undoubtedly be insured a speedy and almost magic growth, and by this time next year will be a very respectable rival to (if not totally eclipsing) Sacramento and Stockton. Miners who have, during the last summer expended to such a deplorable extent their useless toil and labor in the southern mines, and have actually lost money in the place of making it, by the unsuccessful and numerous damming operations, and the scarcity of gold there, are strongly recommended to turn their attention to these mines, as the average amount dug last year, putting it at an infinitely lower estimate than from the statements of the miners we would be warranted in putting it, one ounce per day to the man. This alone is sufficient to justify the opinion that there is ample room for more, and when it is taken into consideration that not over one tenth part of the gold region has as yet been explored, the certainty of room is rendered beyond doubt. The enormous tax upon the miners for packing of provisions will next year be effectually obviated by the aid of water communication, which extends into the very heart of the mines. Goods can be taken from the deck of steamers by the miners in the place of the pack-saddle of the mule, and provisions now furnished at an expense of $1.50 for the mere packing, can be afforded for ten cents, thus enabling the miner to lay by the fruits of their labor, instead of expending so great a quota for subsistence. To persons wishing to invest capital to an advantage in town lots, an almost unparalleled money making speculation is now open; as lots at the present time can be procured at a comparatively low figure, and the price that they will be disposed of next spring will be high. Arrangements have been made for a steamer to ply between the town and the mines, which will warrant to miners the supply of provisions forthwith.

A map of the town and river can be seen at Messrs. Schlutz & Palmer's, foot of Jackson street; at Bullett & Patrick's, corner of Jackson and Sansome streets; and at Worthington, Beale & Bunting's.

Any required information respecting the Mines, River, Town and Harbor, by application to Mr. John Gray, at Messrs. Schlutz & Palmer, or to Mr. T. Bunting, at the firm of Worthington, Beale & Bunting, on Montgomery street. o15 of California, District of the County of Santa Clara: Jose De Arnaz vs. Genoveva Garcia Mangel, Emanuel Mangel and Lorenzo Geoffrey. Petition to foreclose mortgage, &c. &c.

Whereas, Jose De Arnaz filed in this Court on the 16th day of May, 1850, his petition, showing, among other things, that on the 20th day of December, 1849, Genoveva Garcia Mangel, the wife of Emanuel Mangel, was the owner in fee of a certain house and lot in San Jose, adjoining and in the rear of the house lately occupied by Messrs. Larrain, Benitez & Co., and fronting on Garcia street, did on that day mortgage the same, with the consent of Emanuel Mangel, her husband, to said Arnaz, to secure the sum of five hundred and sixty dollars, payable four months from date; That afterwards, on or about the 15th day of January, 1850, said Emanuel Mangel and Genoveva G. Mangel executed a mortgage on the same premises to one Geoffrey, of San Francisco, for about fourteen hundred dollars; which said mortgage was falsely dated the 19th of December, 1849, with intent to defeat the prior mortgage lien on said real estate, and to cheat and defraud said petitioner out of his debt. Said petitioner prays discovery and full answer to the above facts, that said mortgage to Geoffrey be set aside as fraudulent, and that said premises be sold to pay petitioner's mortgage, and for general relief.

And it being proved by affidavit to the satisfaction of this Court that Emanuel Mangel is a non-resident of this State, notice is hereby given to Emanuel Mangel to be and appear before the Honorable Court of the Third Judicial District, for the County of Santa Clara, on the fourth Monday of December, 1850, at the court house in San Jose, then and there to answer said petition, or, in default thereof, the allegation therein contained will be heard in your absence and decreed accordingly.

Given under my hand and private seal, there being no seal of of L. S. fice yet provided at this office, this 24th of May, A. D. 1850.
